SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 27 (AP)—American front-line troops ate full course Thanksgiving dinners today with the warning from their commander that "Godless Communism wants no peace" in Korea.

Holiday feasts were preceded by religious services of all faiths — held even in front-line dugouts—more elaborate than on either of the two preceding Thanksgiving Days of the Korean War.

China Opposes India's Plan Says Russia

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., Nov. 26 (AP)—Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the U. N. Political Committee today that Red China rejected India's compromise peace plan for Korea two days ago. That was the same day Vishinsky turned it down for the Soviet Union.

The United States delegation said while Vishinsky spoke that it will leave up to President-elect Dwight D. Eisenhower any further moves for peace in Korea if the Indian plan is officially and finally rebuffed by the Communist Chinese and the North Koreans. A high Indian source said his delegation had received word only this morning of Red China's attitude, relayed through New Delhi. "You can call it a rejection," this source said, "but we call it objections. The more objections we receive the more we must push our efforts."

Over the sustained and vociferous objections of Vishinsky the Political Committee voted 49 to 5, with Nationalist China abstaining to give top priority to the Indian peace plan, which is expected to be amended in such a way as to meet U. S. objections.

India Aims One Part
In a move aimed at calming the fears expressed by the U. S. and several other countries, India late today changed a controversial section to leave up to the U. N. itself the final disposition of all prisoners remaining in a demilitarized zone five months after an armistice.

This is expected to meet the objections of the U. S. that there must be a definite arrangement for disposition of the prisoners so they will not remain in camp indefinitely.

Vishinsky said the committee was wasting its time in view of Peiping's negative reply.

In a surprise move, he submitted a series of amendments to the New Delhi proposal submitted by V. K. Krishna Menon, deputy Indian delegate. These would have the effect of substituting Vishinsky's own peace plan for the Menon plan.

Members of the committee said after the meeting they would vote down Vishinsky's amendments. The Russians want a cease fire now and negotiations later by an 11-nation commission for a settlement, including the question of repatriation of prisoners.

Four Nations On Commission
Menon proposed creation of a four-nation repatriation commission to handle the prisoners of war after a cease fire in effect. He incorporated the United States proposal for non-forcible repatriation and Vishinsky objected that it was merely another version of a United States resolution along the same lines.

The American delegation spokesman, meanwhile, said the U. S. and its allies still are supporting the Indian plan. An argument over this support caused a serious split between the United States and Britain last week-end but the warring efforts by diplomats of those two countries are reported to have resulted in a formula which both can support.

Weather Brings Drop In Prices On Grain Board

CHICAGO, Nov. 26 (AP)—Wheat paid a lot more attention to the rain and snow in the Southwest today, prices dropping fractionally to more than a cent on the Board of Trade.

Other cereals also were lower. The weather was viewed as quite favorable for feed grain prices, but it appeared this had been discounted in yesterday's brisk advance. Even so, corn and oats did better than wheat.

Wheat closed 1/2 to 1 1/2 cents lower, corn 1/2 lower to 3/4 cent higher, oats 1/2 lower to 3/4 cent higher, rye 1 1/2 to 2 cents lower, soybeans 1 1/4 lower to 1/4 cent higher and land 12 to 30 cents a hundred pounds lower.

Most of the winter wheat belt lay under a snow blanket, and those sections which didn't had at least received some rain. Both July and September wheat tumbled more than a cent. While the drought has been broken, some grain men cautioned that deficiency of subsoil moisture will cause concern until the crop is harvested.

Woman Gives Birth To Twins Without Aid

NEW CASTLE, Ind., Nov. 26 (AP)—Police said a woman gave birth unattended to twin boys today and remained at home while the infants were taken to a hospital.

Policeman Robert Simmons said Mrs. Flora L. Lee refused to go to the hospital, but permitted him to take the twins, each weighing more than five pounds.

QUITS AS PRICE BOSS—Tige Woods packs his papers into a briefcase in Washington after resigning as Price Stabilizer with a blast at Congress for providing what he termed a weak controls law. Trumanites Ready To Stick To Controls Until The End

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The administration seemed committed today to keep price and wage controls until Congress lets them die—perhaps on April 30.

After calling former Price Boss Michael V. DiSalle here to advise on control methods and policy during the swan-song days of the administration, Economic Stabilizer Roger Putnam told assembled OPS officials:

"I want everyone here to realize, and the public too, that we still have a job to do and a law to administer."

"We still need controls in many places."

Putnam favors a 14-month extension of anti-inflation powers—until mid-1954. He said he hoped DiSalle's return as a special consultant to him would quash reports of imminent abandonment of ceilings.

The reports broke into print on Monday when Sen. Maybank (D-SC) said he had information that President Truman was considering killing wage and price ceilings before the new, Republican-dominated Congress meets on Jan. 3.

The White House later said DiSalle had no such plan, but OPS workers, already jarred by the announced resignation of Price Director Tige E. Woods, were uncertain whether they had a control program or not. Some were making plans to quit Washington.

Freehill Replaces Wood
Putnam today named Joseph H. Freehill, formerly Wood's deputy, to be acting director of OPS. Then Putnam called the OPS staff together and reassured it that controls will be maintained.

DiSalle's arrival on Dec. 1 will coincide with the effective date of Wood's resignation. Putnam said, however, that the chubby Ohioan will remain only "a week or two."

and will not resume command of the price agency which he headed until February.

Putnam made public his letter to DiSalle confirming the latter's advisory mission. It said that DiSalle, who was unsuccessful in an attempt to win the Ohio Senate seat of Republican Senator Bricker, will confer with him on control matters "as to organization, administration and policies."

"I am glad to find out that you and I see eye to eye on the importance of price controls in the present economic situation," Putnam wrote DiSalle, "and that we both agree we can still continue to accomplish a great deal, even under the present weakened law."

Some Oppose Extension
The price-wage control authority in the Defense Production Act expires on April 30. Some leading Republican members of Congress oppose any extension.

The ceilings could be eliminated earlier, moreover, by a mere executive order from President Truman or, after Jan. 20, from President-elect Eisenhower.

There were these further developments:

1. A decision on rolling back retail beef prices, due from Woods today, was postponed at Putnam's request until DiSalle is consulted.

2. Putnam, faced with approving or rejecting a coal wage boost which may be crucial to the future of wage control, said he hopes to leave Washington soon after the decision. But he added that he "will not leave during a crisis."

Answer Will Be Known In A Few Weeks

Army Doctors May Check 'Songo Fever'

By FRANK CARRY

AP Science Reporter

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—Army doctors said today they believe progress has been made toward preventing a mysterious malady of the Korean campaign—"Songo fever."

The disease, cause unknown, has stricken some 1,500 American troops in Korea, causing about 75 deaths, and has laid up fighting men for as long as two months.

It is marked by high fever and serious hemorrhages, especially in the kidneys.

While voicing optimism, officials of the Army surgeon general's office told a reporter they must wait a few more weeks to see if optimism is fully justified.

Reason for their caution is that the month of November—and possibly the first few weeks in December—are expected to provide the first major test of preventative measures launched on a full scale earlier this year.

The attack, with chemicals and other means, is aimed at "mites" and other insects which are under suspicion as possible transmitters of the disease.

It will be the first real opportunity to see how these preventive measures work during a period when the disease ordinarily reaches a major seasonal peak.

Doctors said that on Nov. 1 the number of cases this fall had been only about one-third of the number in the same period last year. And, they add, incomplete reports for the week in November indicate an even sharper drop.

Peak May Come Later
They may be cautioned against optimism because of the possibility that this year's fall peak may be later than last year's.

They also said it's possible that there were actually fewer of the suspected insects present this year than last—due to some quirk of mother nature rather than to control measures—and that this might have meant lessened exposure.

But there's no statistical evidence one way or the other.

"Songo fever"—technically known as "epidemic hemorrhagic fever"—got its nickname from the fact that the Japanese first noted it among Nippon cavalrymen stationed in the marshlands near the Songo River in Manchuria in 1939.

The disease also occurred among Russian soldiers operating along the Manchurian border.

It was first recognized among American troops in Korea in June, 1951. But the doctors later

Ike Adds Two More To Staff

General Selects Vandenberg, Rogers As His Secretary, Deputy Attorney

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—President-elect Eisenhower chose two more members of his official family today—his White House secretary and a deputy attorney general.

Eisenhower named Arthur H. Vandenberg Jr., son of the late Michigan Senator, as White House secretary. He will succeed Matthew Connolly.

The general also appointed William P. Rogers, of Bethesda, Md., young but experienced corruption and racket buster, as deputy attorney general.

James C. Hagerty, his press secretary, said Eisenhower would spend Thanksgiving at home and return to his office Friday to begin a schedule of appointments running through Sunday.

Hagerty said members of the President-elect's family would be with him at his Columbia University home tomorrow for the holiday.

Dining with him will be his wife, Mamie; her mother, Mrs. John S. Doud; the Eisenhower's daughter-in-law, Mrs. John Eisenhower, and her three children. Their son, and Army major, is in Korea.

Vandenberg An Old Aide

Vandenberg, whose home is in Grand Rapids, Mich., has been a member of Eisenhower's staff since the beginning of the general's campaign for the GOP presidential nomination.

Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire, recently designated as assistant to the President in the new administration, issued a statement saying Vandenberg would be secretary.

He will handle appointments for the President and will have what were described as "expanded" duties over those that previously went with the post.

Vandenberg, 45 and a bachelor, was graduated from Dartmouth College in 1928 and served as assistant to his father.

"So the Washington scene and Congress will not be new to me," he commented to newsmen.

Rogers, 39, member of a Washington, D. C., law firm, is a political ally of Gov. Thomas E. Dewey of New York.

His appointment coincided with a prediction by Gov. Theodore McKeldin of Maryland that Eisenhower's Republican regime would crack down on corruption, "some of which has not even been suspected."

Cases May Reopen
"Many who think they have fixed things with the Attorney General and escaped their just penalties may find their cases reopened," McKeldin said in a speech here shortly before calling on Eisenhower.

There was no word as to when Eisenhower would leave on his Korean trip.

But today he received a first-hand report on Korea from Mrs. Anna Rosenberg, assistant secretary of defense in charge of manpower, who returned from the war-torn country a few days ago.

Asked whether the President-elect had asked her to remain in the defense department, she laughed and said:

"I went to Washington only for eight months. That was two years ago."

She said, though, that "anything I can do for Gen. Eisenhower, I would gladly do."

Air Force Clamps Lid On Trial Of Soldier Held On Spy Charge

TOKYO, Thursday, Nov. 27 (AP)—The Air Force blacked out news today on Sgt. Guiseppe Cascio, who faces a court martial within the next five weeks on charges of plotting to sell U. S. Sabrejet secrets.

No one would talk about it at the flood-lit barbed wire stockade at Johnson Air Force base near Tokyo, where Cascio is held; nor at Taegu jet base in Korea where the sergeant was arrested and is expected to go to trial.

But AP Correspondent Sam Sumner reported from Taegu it was evident that the U. S. Air Force, Army and South Korean authorities all played roles in drawing the web around Cascio.

Agents of the Air Force Office of Special Investigation, OSI made the arrest Sept. 21. But it was a closely kept secret until Far East Air Forces announced in Tokyo Tuesday that he was held on charges of conspiring to give secret information to the enemy.

Ray Bushell, Cascio's civilian attorney, said the 34-year-old sergeant from Tucson, Ariz., would plead innocent "on advice of counsel."

Woman Dies In Car Wreck East Of Here

Mrs. Lucille Clements, 44, Columbia, was injured fatally about 4 p. m. Wednesday in a head-on crash of two automobiles just east of Sedalia and west of East View Barbecue. Three other persons, including her husband, Cecil Clements, 46, driver of one car, her 11-year-old son Mickey, and Eugene Boss, 34, Chamois, driver of the other car, were injured seriously.

Mrs. Clements died at the Bothwell Hospital at 6:35 p. m. She had suffered a fracture of the right ankle, possible internal injuries, cerebral hemorrhage, and a severe injury to the left forehead.

Her son, Mickey, suffered a possible concussion and bruises. He was still unconscious late Wednesday night and his condition did not show any change, and was reported as being critical.

Clements suffered a dislocation of the left hip, fracture of the left pelvis, fracture of the right hand and wrist, severe laceration on his chin, which took several stitches to close, and multiple bruises.

Boss suffered a dislocation of the left hip, lacerated lip and bruises.

Mignon Clements, twin sister of Mickey, escaped serious injury. She received bruises of the back and upper part of her right leg.

The girl was taken to the home of Trooper Earl Gregory 1512 East Broadway, where Mrs. Gregory took care of her until her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur R. Clements, Brookfield, arrived in Sedalia.

Clements, driving a 1951 Pontiac sedan, was headed toward Sedalia, enroute from his home at Columbia, to Springfield and Willard, Mo., to spend Thanksgiving. Thursday is his birthday.

Boss, driving a 1951 Chevrolet, was headed east on Highway 50 when the accident occurred. The cars collided on the curve on the northeast side of the highway.

Boss told Trooper Pete Stohr, Trooper Gregory and a newspaper reporter he did not know what had happened.

Boss said he is employed by the Missouri Pacific as a motor car operator in the Bridge and Building Department, working out of Sedalia. He reported he commutes between Sedalia and his home in Chamois.

Clements told the troopers he tried to get off the pavement but was unable to avoid the collision. The front ends of both motor cars were demolished. They were towed to the Hamlin Service Station.

Ambulances from McLaughlin's and Ewing's brought the injured to the Bothwell Hospital.

Dr. A. L. Lowe and Dr. T. J. Hopkins, rendered medical treatment and had X-rays taken of the injured. Dr. Lowe reported Mrs. Clements failed to respond to the treatment given her, including a blood transfusion.

Dr. C. Gordon Stauffer, who also was called, was in the emergency room at the time Mrs. Clements died. Dr. Stauffer, the coroner, said he did not plan an inquest, but believed Mrs. Clements died of a cerebral hemorrhage.

Mrs. Clements was born at Winona, Mo.

She is survived by her husband and twin children, Mickey and Mignon.

Also surviving are her mother, Mrs. Sue Baker of Willard, two sisters Mrs. Leslie Brower, Springfield and Mrs. Zora Crouch, Willard.

Mr. and Mrs. Brower came to Sedalia Wednesday night upon learning of the accident.

Mrs. Clements' body was removed to the McLaughlin Funeral Chapel.

Wrecks Take Rising Toll In Snow Belt

By The Associated Press

The weather gave most of the Midwest an early winter knockout punch Wednesday, leaving at least 14 persons dead and traffic tied up from the mountain areas of Colorado and Wyoming through Kansas, Nebraska, Iowa and Minnesota. It hit Illinois in more moderate form.

Winds up to 50 miles an hour combined with snowfall totalling as much as a foot in some places to tie up traffic and maroon hundreds of persons in busses and private motor cars.

Colder weather was moving eastward after temperatures plummeted below zero in the mountain area—32 below at West Yellowstone on the Wyoming-Montana border.

Drift Stops Train
Most railroad lines were kept open, but the Santa Fe's Super-chief luxury train from Chicago to California, rammied into a snow drift near Macksville, Kan., with such force that the locomotive was damaged and snow crews had to work eight hours to free it. No one was injured.

While this train was having its troubles, other trains of the Santa Fe and Union Pacific Railroads were rescuing stranded motorists—hundreds of them—from snow-bounded highways adjacent to the railroad tracks.

Near New Cambria, Kan., one group of stranded students had to form a human chain to reach the rescue train from their stalled automobiles as the wind became too powerful for individuals to buck.

Wichita, Kan., was the hardest hit city. This city of 170,000 population had public transportation and power disrupted for a time. Schools cancelled classes.

Seven deaths were charged to the storm in Iowa and Nebraska. Four in Kansas and one each in Oklahoma and Texas.

Two babies were born to storm refugees in Iowa, and numerous injuries were reported as a direct result of the weather.

Winds exceeded 60-mile-an-hour at Omaha and whipped a five-inch snowfall into huge drifts.

Throughout the area the story was much the same, though details varied some.

High winds, drifting snow, stalled busses and motor cars and trucks all combined to present a picture frequently found in January and February, but seldom in November.

As the storm moved eastward, clearing and colder weather moved in for a Thanksgiving Day that looked more like a Christmas card scene than a November holiday.

15 Die In Fire In West Virginia

HUNTINGTON, W. Va., Nov. 26 (AP)—Fifteen women and children died tonight in a fierce blaze that swept a three-story building at the Huntington State Hospital.

Older women were housed on the first floor, psychotic women on the second and the children, all apparently under 16, on the third.

A fireman said the blaze started in the basement. Just how he did not know.

Correspondent Dick Boyd reported from the scene that there was no danger of the fire spreading.

John J. Jones Retires After 33 Years As MoPac Baggageman

For many years John J. Jones, 400 North Ohio, was a familiar figure around the Missouri Pacific depot. He could be seen as train time neared, pulling the large carts out on the track at just the place he knew the baggage car would be when the swiftly moving passenger train slowed and then stopped at the station. Then he would help load the baggage on the cart and when it was filled up high he would start pulling it, or sometimes pushing it, toward the baggage room. It wasn't easy—those loaded carts were heavy and it took a lot of strength to pull and push them.

And the things that were loaded on them—sometimes there were two or three carts, with everything imaginable being thrown on—sometimes something would slip off and Jones would get down to get it.

This time of year the packages increased, things coming in for the Christmas rush—then Christmas boxes that made you wonder if there was anything there that might be going to your own door, and John was always there pushing and pulling in all kinds of weather.

But this year as the packages of the Christmas season grow bigger and bigger John won't be there—he will be sitting in an easy chair at home. He retired on Nov. 1, after 33 years.

John was born on the old D. H. Smith farm, which was then the Woolridge farm, and his family goes back to slavery in Pettis County. It was at the time that slavery ended that his grandmother, Helen Jones, then a young girl, found herself free and was sold to get out. And so from the only home she had known in Beaman she tried to make her way to Ottumwa. Three times she started and got lost—she didn't know how to get there—and finally she ended up in Sedalia. In Sedalia she ran into Major Jenny, who gave her a job and for whom she worked the remainder of her working days. She later married a man named Phillips and Betty, her daughter, was John's mother. When John was nine years old his mother died and was buried on the Gentry farm. The father of the boy, Joseph Jones, had a spring wagon and was ready to take the boy home with him, but Johnny didn't want to go. He looked back at the woman who had reared his mother, who reared the Woolridge children, the Thompson children and the Boudin family. They all called her "Black Mammy," but Johnny didn't—he called her "Mammy." He got out of the wagon and went to her: "I don't want to go with daddy," he said, "I want to live with you." And so he did. She brought him to school in Sedalia. It was 40 years before he ever went back to the house where his mother died.

When he was 11 years old John went to Kansas with his father. When he was 19 he came back to Sedalia on a visit and got a job at the Sischer Hotel. He later worked at the Boutell-Graham

Mo-Pac Will Purchase 64 Diesels Next Month

ST. LOUIS, Nov. 23 (P)—The Missouri Pacific Railroad Co., today announced plans to buy 64 diesel units during 1953 at an estimated cost of $9,812,000.

P. J. Neff, the railroad's chief executive officer, said orders for the units will be placed shortly and deliveries are expected early next year.

When the units are delivered it will increase Missouri-Pacific ownership to 741 units, Neff said, and will bring all of the system's principal main line trackage under complete or partial dieselization.

The new equipment will completely dieselize terminal operations at Memphis, Little Rock, Alexandria and Lake Charles, La., and Galveston, Tex., and trackage between Memphis-Lake Knob and Memphis-Helena, Ark.; Monroe-Lake Charles, La.; Palestine-Galveston and Palestine-Taylor, Texas.

Donald Elliott Home On 17-Day Navy Leave

Donald Elliott, former manager of the Liberty Theatre in Sedalia, is home on a 17-day leave from the Navy after serving aboard the USS Arcadia, a destroyer tender operating out of New York Harbor.

Donald, 21, is the son of Mrs. Lela Elliott, 900 West 11th. He joined the Navy on Dec. 3, 1951, and took his boot training at Great Lakes Naval Station, Ill. He then attended yeoman school at the Norfolk, Va., naval base, before being assigned to the Arcadia.

Donald arrived in Sedalia Tuesday evening by train. After his leave is up, he must report back to his ship. He is a bookkeeper.

Red Cross Notes—

LaMonte School First to Report Junior Red Cross Membership

Of all the Pettis County schools, the LaMonte school is the first to have turned in the Junior Red Cross enrollment report, and also the requisite number of filled gift boxes. The boys and girls who made this record possible have every right to be proud of it.

The local Red Cross chapter urges all the rest of the schools turn in their reports as soon as possible, and also complete the filling of these gift boxes, as they are to be shipped the middle of December.

As part of the fall and winter safety program, a film, produced by the American National Red Cross depicting the various Red Cross services, especially first aid and water safety, was shown to the Centerview School last Thursday saloon until it closed and then, on May 1, 1919, went to work for the railroad as baggage helper. He worked under Roy Kirchhofer, who was then baggage man.

He was married in Sedalia to Cora Bush who died Aug. 2, 1943. He has four daughters, all of them teachers. Two of them, Mrs. Hazel Lucas and Mrs. Jewell Corinne Jordan, are teaching in Cleveland, O. Mrs. Dorothy Lee and the unmarried daughter, Jeraldine Jones, both are home with their father and are teachers at Hubbard School.

When Johnny Jones came back to Sedalia there were two other fellows here by the same name and they were continually getting into trouble—it worried him to such a degree that he almost went back to Kansas—he thought people would think it was him. Then, in 1900 he joined the Masons and when the man put down his name he put it down J. J. Jones, so that was what it was after that.

Then when the second little girl was born and she was named Jewell Corinne, the Corinne for her mother, her daddy decided he would take the name of Jewell for that second initial "J" that the man had given him—so, he said laughingly, "I was named for my daughter."

Jones doesn't care about going back down to the depot now—he doesn't work there any more and he doesn't want to go down there. Only once has he been there since he left—that was to get his last check. "I have checked baggage for people all over the country, all kinds of people, rich and poor, but I have always got along with everybody," he said. Anyone who can get along with everybody dealing with the public for 33 years—as he has done—has some record. He deserves an easy chair in his own living room. There will be no more pulling of the baggage truck onto the track when the light turns red in the distance and there is a faint whistle that gets closer and closer. For John J. Jones there is only the green light—that he might go where and when he pleases through the years that lie ahead.

Three Escape As Car Rolls North Of Here

Three persons escaped injury about 6:30 p.m. Saturday when the car in which they were riding turned a somersault and landed on its top in a ditch about four miles north of Sedalia on Highway 65.

Ray Martin, 2101 East 12th, was the driver of the 1949 Dodge sedan in which he was accompanied by Mrs. Martin, and her aunt, Mrs. Eva Warren, 1220 South Massachusetts. Although they were thrown from the front seat into the back part of the sedan, their hurts consisted of hardly more than a good shakeup and slight bruises. They were returning to their home from St. Joseph, where they had been on a visit.

Martin explained that as he was coming down the Cedar Creek Hill and came upon another car with the lights out and barely moving. He said he applied the brakes and pulled to the shoulder in an endeavor to miss the vehicle and his car turned over on its top.

The driver of the other vehicle, according to witnesses who were driving behind Martin, said the car moved away slowly, apparently started to stop and then sped on south on the highway. The other motorists stopped and assisted the Martins and Mrs. Warren out the rear door of the overturned sedan.

The top of the car was smashed in and the front door on the left side sprung.

George Chamberlin's wrecker was called and turned the car back on its wheels, and Martin was able to drive it on into Sedalia.

Mrs. Martin and Mrs. Warren were brought to Sedalia by two young men from Marshall.

McDowel Music Featured Here Friday Night

The Helen G. Steele Music Club with Mrs. Louis Isgur as chairman, presented a program of McDowel music on Nov. 21 at 8:30 in the evening honoring Mrs. McDowel on her 95th birthday anniversary at the same hour the entire nation was celebrating in her honor.

Mrs. McDowel is the wife of Edward McDowel, the justly renowned American composer who started his work in a log cabin in Peterborough, N. H., far removed from any other habitation. The ideal of Edward McDowel and his wife was to give a share of what he, as a creative worker, had been blessed with and they made great plans.

In 1907, the year before his death, they decided to the Edward McDowel Association their farm house, the 200 acres of surrounding land and the famous log cabin. After his death, Marian McDowel went valiantly forth to play McDowel music and tell the story of the colony. For the next 30 years she appeared in 400 cities and towns, raising more than $100,000 for the colony's upkeep. It was about 25 years ago that she was a visitor to the Helen G. Steele Music Club.

Today, 45 years later, the colony consists of more than 600 acres of cleared pine land, with 24 beautiful studios and dormitories, besides colony hall, where

Crime Probe Stirs Strike Of Dockmen

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—A thousand defiant dock workers struck a busy section of the New York's waterfront today to protest a state crime probe of some of their union leaders. They were expected to resume work tomorrow.

Two of the world's biggest ships—the liners Queen Elizabeth and the United States—were caught in the tieup. Some 3,000 of their passengers had to wrestle their own luggage ashore. Two smaller liners also were caught.

The Cunard Line, which operates the Queen Elizabeth, called the work stoppage a "political strike."

The State Crime Commission ignored the demonstration and went right on subpoenaing members of the AFL International Longshoremen's Association to ask them about waterfront racketeering.

Two key members of the AFL's Local 823 were summoned to private midtown piers to testify in the case before the commission. They refused to answer questions however, and were told to come back for public hearings starting Dec. 3.

The two are Harold Bowers, a union organizer, and his ex-convict cousin, Mickey Bowers.

Members of their local refused to answer the morning shakeup, the lineup where dockers draw their daily pier assignments.

The work stoppage spread along North River piers from 44th to 50th Streets involving some members of Local 795.

Joseph P. Ryan, president of the I.L.A., said:

"The hiring stevedores had been subpoenaed to appear before the State Crime Commission this morning and the men complained that they would not go to work unless their hiring stevedores were on the piers."

Ryan said the whole thing should blow over with the return to the piers of the subpoenaed dockers. He said he had assurances everything will be "back to normal tomorrow morning."

It was the most serious walkout on the world's largest waterfront in a year. Last fall the I.L.A. struck the piers for 25 days, tying up millions of dollars worth of cargo.

Pilot Rescues Buddy; Becomes 23rd US Jet Ace

SEOUL, Thursday, Nov. 26 (AP)—The U. S. Air Force crowned its 23rd jet ace today—a Texan who went in to rescue a buddy and shot down his fifth MIG with gunshots that weren't working.

Sabrejets fought Communist MIGs over Northwest Korea yesterday, but pilots made no victory claims. There was little action on the front.

The 23rd ace made his kill last Saturday. The Fifth Air Force did not announce it until Thanksgiving eve, after studying film from his gun camera.

The new ace is Lt. Cecil G. Foster, 27, of San Antonio, Tex. He told about it today.

Foster and his wingman—Lt. Edmond G. Hepler of Selma, Okla.—had run almost out of fuel in four head-on passes with four Communist MIGs, and had headed for home with the Red jets chasing them.

The Communist planes started firing at Hepler.

"I did a roll over the first MIG and latched onto the second one who had already moved in behind Hepler," Foster said. "My sight was out, and I had to fire by tracers."

Foster emptied his guns at 400 feet, and the MIG pilot bailed out. The two Americans had just enough fuel to get back to base.

"When I landed," Foster said, "the tanks were bone dry."

Colleges Show Jump In 1952 Enrollment

WASHINGTON, Nov. 26 (AP)—The number of students enrolled in the nation's colleges and universities has increased for the first time since 1949, Commissioner of Education Earl James McGrath reported today.

This year's full enrollment totaled 2,143,284, compared with 2,116,440 a year ago.

Commenting on reports gathered from 1,800 educational institutions, McGrath said:

"Although the increase is relatively slight, 1.5 per cent above 1951, there is a decided upsurge in the number of students enrolling for the first time. This fall's enrollment of new students is 537,000. Last year's was 472,000.

"Men students number 1,387,000. This total is about 1 per cent below that of 1951. On the other hand there is a substantial increase in the number of women students this year over last—761,000 women students are enrolled, 60 per cent more than the 1951 enrollment."

NBC Will Televis
Part Of ND-USC Tilt

NEW YORK, Nov. 26 (AP)—The NCAA television committee gave approval today for Notre Dame to televise part of its game with Southern California Saturday after completion of the Army-Navy game.

The games begin only one half hour apart, however, so only a small portion of the Irish-USC contest will be seen.

Asa Bushnell, director of the NCAA TV committee, said he had wired the Rev. Edmund Joyce, president of Notre Dame, that the committee had decided it would be in the "public interest" to approve the telecast from South Bend, Ind.

Both games are to be carried by NBC. The Army-Navy game is a 100,000 sellout, and a capacity crowd of 57,000 will see the Notre Dame-USC tilt.

Elephant Warm-Up After Storm Service

ST. JOSEPH, Nov. 26 (AP)—A full grown elephant was warming up in a garage here this afternoon after doing yomman service in a truck accident last night that resulted from the storm.

The elephant, owned by the United Exposition Show of Paragould, Ark., was being taken to Albany, Mo., for a Christmas promotion event when the truck trailer carrying it went off the road east of St. Joseph.

The elephant was led out and easily pushed the big vehicle back on the road. But was chilled by the cold.

Its trainer, Capt. Jimmy O. Dale, did quite a bit of searching for a place big enough to warm the elephant up in before he found J. W. Coffey, garage owner, willing to oblige.

It is hardly necessary to say the elephant had no winter clothes in its trunk.

Czechs Demand Death For 14 Who Betrayed

VIENNA, Austria, Nov. 26 (AP)—Czechoslovakia's Communist government today demanded a sentence of death by hanging for 14 former leading Communists who for a week have poured out long and fantastic confessions of crimes against Communism and the Soviet Union.

Sentences are expected to be imposed in Prague tomorrow on Rudolf Slansky, former Moscow favorite and secretary general of the Czechoslovak Communist party; Vlado Clementis, former foreign minister; and 12 others. All but three of the defendants are Jews.

The strong anti-Semitic tone of the trial—all were accused of plotting with Israel and Zionist "capitalists"—had its echo in a report from a highly reliable source that open anti-Jewish attacks have erupted in Bratislava, Slovakia.

Nazi-like chalked signs saying "Jews," or "Jews live here" were reported smeared on the doors of Jewish homes there.

This report said the words "down with the Jewish capitalists" were splashed in front of a synagogue and on the streets. When the Jews complained to police, the informant said, they were told that they were really workers for the state and had nothing to worry about and there was no need to remove the signs.

The Prague radio announced the prosecution had completed its summary against the 14 accused of treason, sabotage, spying and plotting against the state. Chief Prosecutor Dr. Josef Urvalek demanded the extreme penalty for all.
